

Limitation of Activities of Off-Campus Individuals and Groups: Loitering, Solicitation, Distribution of Materials and Demonstrations

1240

The Colleges of the District were established by the community primarily as educational institutions. Unregulated activities and loitering on a campus by individuals or groups not associated with the College may interfere with the educational function.

The Board adopts the following policy to cover instances where off-campus groups or individuals on a campus might interfere with the objectives of the District.

Loitering

Because visitation to a District facility by an individual or group may disrupt the educational program, may utilize space required for those regularly enrolled, may be a danger to students, and/or may be a hazard to property, the Board will be the sole determiner of who will be permitted to visit a District facility. Therefore, the Board may withdraw the visitation privilege of any individual or group at any time.

Individuals on District property must identify themselves on request and must abide by all District regulations.

Solicitation

Solicitation by off-campus groups or individuals must comply with times and places as prescribed by campus regulations and must not in any way interfere with College functions.

Distribution of Material

Distribution of materials by off-campus groups or individuals must comply with times and places as prescribed by campus regulations and must not in any way interfere with College functions.

Demonstrations

Off-campus groups or organizations wishing to hold a demonstration on campus must first obtain a permit to do so from the college administration. Permit for such purposes will be considered consistent with District regulations and security concerns. Groups obtaining permits must comply with the same regulations and requirements as have been established for student groups wishing to demonstrate on the campus.
