Martha J. Kanter, Chancellor
Foothill-De Anza Community College District

Martha J. Kanter was appointed chancellor of the Foothill-De Anza Community College District in July after 10 years as president of De Anza College. Previously, she served for three years as vice president of instruction and student services at San Jose City College and for three years as vice chancellor of policy analysis and research for the California Community Colleges Chancellor's Office. She holds a doctorate in higher education administration from the University of San Francisco, a master's degree in education with a concentration in clinical psychology and public practice from Harvard University, and a bachelor's degree in sociology from Brandeis University.

Kanter is active in a wide variety of local, state and national organizations, including serving as a member of the CEO Board of the Community College League of California and as chair of the California Community Colleges' Technology and Telecommunications Committee. She is co-chair of Joint Venture: Silicon Valley Network, Inc.; a trustee of the San Jose Museum of Art and The National Hispanic University; president of the Community College Leadership Development Initiatives Foundation; and a member of the board of the Hispanic Foundation Silicon Valley. In addition, Kanter is a senior fellow of the American Leadership Forum-Silicon Valley. She belongs to the Rotary Club of Palo Alto, formerly serving for 10 years as a member of the Rotary Club of Cupertino.

In 1996 she was named Woman of the Year by the 24th Assembly District and Woman of Achievement by the San Jose Mercury News and the Women's Fund, and in 1999 was named Woman of the Year for Santa Clara County by the American Association of University Women. In October, she received the Excellence in Education award from the National Organization for Women, California Chapter.

Kanter is focusing on building upon Foothill-De Anza's legacy of excellence and opportunity as the district expands its leadership role in educating more than 45,000 students annually.

Kanter enjoys traveling, tending bonsai and reading. She is married to Carl Brown, who is director of the High Tech Center Training Unit of the California Community Colleges.

Keynote Speaker
Dr. Manuel Pastor,
Director of the Center for Justice,
Tolerance, and Community and Professor of Latin American and Latino Studies,
University of California, Santa Cruz

Pastor's research on Latin American issues has been published in journals such as International Organization, World Development, Journal of Development Economics, Journal of Latin American Studies, Latin American Research Review, and Foreign Affairs. His research on U.S. urban issues has been published in such journals as Economic Development Quarterly, Social Science Quarterly, Urban Affairs Review, and Urban Geography, and has generally focused on the labor market and social conditions facing low-income urban communities.

Pastor's most recent book, co-authored with Angela Glover Blackwell and Stewart Kwoh, is titled "Searching for the Uncommon Common Ground: New Dimensions on Race in America" (W.W. Norton, 2002). He co-authored, with Peter Dreier, Eugene Grigsby, and Marta Lopez-Garza, "Regions That Work: How Cities and Suburbs Can Grow Together" (University of Minnesota Press, 2000), a book that has become a reference for those seeking to better link community and regional development. Along with Jennifer Wolch and Peter Dreier, he edited a forthcoming collection of essays titled "Up Against the Sprawl: Public Policy and the (Re-)Making of Southern California" (University of Minnesota Press, 2004).

Pastor speaks frequently on issues of community empowerment and has contributed opinion pieces to such publications as the Los Angeles Times, the San Jose Mercury News, and the Christian Science Monitor. He served as a member of the Commission on Regions appointed by California's Speaker of the State Assembly, and in January 2002 was awarded a Civic Entrepreneur of the Year award from the California Center for Regional Leadership.

The Foothill-De Anza Community College District, responding to community needs, provides high quality educational opportunities that promote the development of individual abilities and enhance the quality of community life.
Located in the heart of Silicon Valley, the district serves the communities of Cupertino,
Los Altos, Los Altos Hills, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Sunnyvale and portions of San Jose.
